

Community Led Research Pilot

A new opportunity in Reading to develop a community led research project!

Community led research can create change and bring attention to important issues that matter to your community group or organisation

- February to March 2023: Explore what community research could mean to your group.
- April to May 2023: We can run free workshops or activities to explore possible themes/ideas that matter to your group and community.
- June to July 2023: Opportunity for some groups to test out a proposal idea with their communities and apply for a community led research project grant.
- A dedicated team to support you every step of the way to explore local priorities and shape your ideas.

Research, science or academic skills are not needed!

Get in touch to find out more!

Reading Voluntary Action

Azra Raja

azra.raja@rva.org.uk

